EAN Guideline Reference Center – Israel Neurological Association

Dear Prof. Tanne,

For the EAN website, we have created a Guideline Reference Center to help our members locate information on evidence-based neurological diagnosis and management easily. There are currently 224 guidelines available on the EAN website covering a wide range of neurological conditions. However, we recognise that, at present, the guidelines are heavily biased towards English and German language and origin, which does not adequately represent all our members. The aim of the Guideline Reference Center is to provide a search tool for guidelines of multiple organisations and languages. Due to copyright issues we prefer to provide the link to the respective web address.

On behalf of the EAN e-Communication board, we are writing to ask if your national neurological society has produced any guidelines or could recommend another organization in your country, which has published guidelines in the field of neurology.

The guidelines should be produced following a structured approach and published. Ideally, they should be evidence-based, although guidelines based on consensus expert opinion would also be welcome.

We would be grateful if you could respond with the appropriate information to newsletter@ean.org. We also welcome feedback, if you have no guidelines available.

Many thanks for your help with this important project.

Yours faithfully,

Prof. Franz Fazekas
